Vein Specialist Bronx

Vein conditions and diseases are no match for the expertise of an Interventional Radiologist. Dr. Bolotin, a double board-certified Diagnostic and Interventional Radiologist and a leading vascular specialist in Bronx.

1 Varicose Veins

Varicose veins are often no more than a cosmetic concern. They're unsightly and can cause you embarrassment about your appearance, which is sometimes enough to seek treatment. But they do occasionally cause discomfort and pain.

2 Venous Insufficiency

Most often, it's damaged vein valves that cause chronic venous insufficiency. By allowing blood to flow backward and pool, they promote varicose veins, a sign of venous insufficiency.

Spider Veins

Thin, red veins, interwoven like a spider web, are called spider veins. They're most often visible on your face or your legs (and sometimes in both places), causing embarrassment or a decline in your self-esteem. Spider veins are usually caused by conditions beyond your control. While they're not dangerous in and of themselves, they can be symptoms of a more serious underlying condition. Seek an accurate diagnosis and effective spider veins treatment from a local expert like Dr. George Bolotin at the Astra Vein Treatment Center in Bronx, New York. You don't need to hide your face or cover legs again. Call the practice for an initial consultation. Spider veins are treatable.
